

Host4Profit ~ A Web Host That Helps

Copyright (c) Maria Vowell & Jody Wilkes
2003 All Rights Reserved

Contributors:

Maria Vowell

<http://www.17steps.com>

Nava Bromberger

<http://www.marketingtwist.com/>

Doug Philp

<http://www.opportunity4profit.com/>

Manuel Vloria

<http://www.vloria.com/>

You have distribution rights with this report in its current PDF format. Feel free to pass this report on in its currently compiled format to whomever you wish. Sell it on disk, pass it on to your visitors, we don't care. The only restriction is that you may not reproduce this report in any other format.

Are you having a hard time deciding which web hosting provider to choose? If so, I'm pleased to tell you about Host4Profit. Host4Profit is more than just a web host. Host4Profit is a host that cares.

This company reaches beyond a customer's expectations by providing more than just superb web hosting. Host4Profit provides top notch service, excellent support, and quality customer care.

The purpose of this report is not to create a long drawn out ad for a hosting company. Instead, its purpose is to emphasize what could go wrong if you choose a BAD hosting provider and what your expectations should be for a GOOD host.

I'm not here to try and sway your decision in any way, I'm just here to let you know about this wonderful service in case you may need it now, or in the future. If you don't choose Host4Profit as your hosting provider, at least you'll hopefully have something to compare with the hosting service you currently use, or something to look for when choosing a web hosting provider.

If you're NOT getting top notch support, service, and features then why would you want to pay a dime to any company that does not care?

Now I'm not saying all hosts are terrible, because they are not, but I can only say that the ones I've tried in the past were. I can also honestly say that Host4Profit actually goes beyond what I would expect in a hosting provider.

When looking for a web hosting provider, you do need to consider a few things that are sometimes overlooked. There is more to hosting than just space to store your files.

How is the support? You don't want to turn your money over to a host that thinks "Customer Care" means "I don't care if the customer is satisfied or not".

The following testimonials are from Host 4 Profit customers.....

I have used other hosts before I came to H4P. There is no comparison in my book. I tried several hosts, one of them was one of the largest hosts on the internet and I had nothing but problems with them. If you wrote them with a question, if they answered it, it took maybe a week if they answered it at all. Yes, I was paying a little less too but with the poor customer service it just wasn't worth it at half the price. I have used H4P for quite a while now and have nothing but good to say about them. Especially the customer service, it is great.

Charles E. White CharleseWhite.com

It is true that you can get comparable hosting in terms of features however, in the business world, truly exceptional service is rare. Host 4 Profit breeze in to the sparsely populated category of businesses that provide such excellent service. Above and beyond the call of duty is one way that I would describe it...Noel Springer WebBizProfit.com

Glad I found H4P, because it's sooo much easier. And then too, is their support... Can't be matched.

John Evans DailyBiz.com

Is the CGI-BIN properly set up? I can honestly say from experience that even if you have a CGI-BIN, that doesn't mean it's going to function to the best of its abilities. I know some of my previous hosts' CGI-BINs would just not even run the programs I needed to use. I've never had that problem with Host4Profit.

I am a visitor of many online forums and the question that I hear mostly is "Can anyone help me to install this script?". I have helped many people, so I have had the privilage to take a look at the control panel of many hosts. From my experience, I can tell you that Host 4 Profit's control panel is the best one I have ever seen. Moreover, installing scripts on H4P is a breeze.

Anand Iyer FreeSiteSetup.com

When you get replies to support enquiries, do they make you feel sheepish? What I mean is, do they reply with a "Well you should know this" attitude with a hint of frustration in their reply that makes you think they consider you stupid?

Host4Profit support is second to none. If you appreciate the value of having someone to be there for you when you don't understand something and will answer your questions quickly and completely every time, you won't find a better host than H4P.

Stone Evans Home-Business.com

Do they fill their servers with so many sites that the speed of your site is not the best it could be?

As I got WillieCrawford.Com back online today, I am totally amazed at the speed of my discussion board! I don't know what's different about the servers but it's very noticeable.

Willie Crawford WillieCrawford.com

Does the host provide additional services besides just hosting? Some do, some don't. The best service I have found that Host4Profit includes in addition to the hosting is access to one of the best online marketing groups, The Warriors.

I joined the Warriors back in 1997 when the membership fee to join was $49.95 and when that amount of money was A LOT of money to me. It was a hard decision to make to spend that kind of money at that time of my life, but I can honestly say without reservation, it was the best 50 bucks I've ever spent!

Robbin Tungett AuctionRiches.com

When I first entered the biggest sales arena in the world, the Internet, it was extremely fortuitous that one of the first sites I came across was the Internet Marketing Warriors. This site has saved me a fortune, with all the great advice its friendly fraternity have given me over the years. It also kickstarted my Internet career and taught me everything I needed to know about being successful on the Internet.

Ricky Allen YourAuctionCashMachine.com

I can easily say I owe all my success to the Warriors Secret Site and Forum.

Jack Humphrey Power-Linking-Profits.com

Internet Marketing Warriors - The original, and in my opinion the best, private marketing site. If you are serious about your ebiz, and you haven't joined yet - do yourself a favor and sign up. The forum is the best, the resources will blow you away - and once you join, you're in for life.

Kathy Laskowski E-Software-Zone.com

I have spent way too much money on marketing-related stuff, and to date, nothing has come close to providing the value and the quality that the Warriors site and forum has.

Bryan Kumar About-Secrets.com

*All comments above were taken from online forum posts, and express these people's true feelings as Host 4 Profit customers. I did not ask for them to submit these comments, I just copied them from forum posts following fair use copyright laws as I wanted them to be unsolicited and spontaneous. These customers are speaking their minds in a normal every day manner which shows you that they are not "canned" comments.

Now I did ask a few customers to send me something that I could add to this report. Their comments about Host4Profit are listed below. I didn't want this report to reflect just my views alone, but instead to show you the views of other Host4Profit customers as well.

This "company" (now Host4Profit) changed my life in such a way that it's quite unbelievable, even now. It is amazing how a single email from a single individual, Allen Says (the founder of The Warriors and Host4Profit), changed my life so much. I'm still amazed at all I've accomplished and how far I've come over the past years thanks to him and the warrior group.

You see, back in the 1990's I was a single parent, struggling to make ends meet. I mean I was struggling BAD and my greatest desire at the time was to be able to work from home, raise my children (instead of a baby sitter raising them), and hopefully go to law school one day.

I've worked as a waitress, in sewing plants, in a tire factory, in a tobacco factory, as a machinist, and even in strip clubs as a cocktail waitress. Yes, shocking I know, but I'm being honest here. I've worked a number of jobs and NONE of them made me happy.

The only two jobs that were at least bearable were the tobacco company and when I was a cocktail waitress because the money was good.

I've walked out of more jobs than I can count, because I'm the type that believes a boss should treat an employee with care. I mean it's the factory workers that make his large paycheck possible!! Nothing ticks me off more than to have a boss treat me with disrespect, or that doesn't appreciate the job I do.

Now when I worked as a cocktail waitress, I did have a terrific boss so I never walked out on him. The money was good, my boss was great, and I stayed there until I moved out of the state.

The point to this story is that I was not happy, not even as a waitress. I just stayed with that job because of the great tips (nothing beats a 20 dollar tip when you're used to working in restaurants where the customers left quarters) and the boss terrific. But the work was very degrading.

At that time in my life I felt empty and useless, but worse, I felt as if I was failing my children.

And to me that's the worst feeling in the world. When I worked at the tobacco company I worked 12 hour shifts, and the drive was an hour away. It hurt to live day after day working, going home, showering, getting some sleep, getting up, eating a sandwich, hugging the children and running out the door to get back to work on time, while my mother raised (she was my babysitter at the time) my children almost 24/7.

I wanted nothing more than to be able to raise my children myself, but I KNEW I had to pay those bills as well.

If you're a single parent you probably know exactly how I was feeling. It's a painful experience to be able to witness 3 of your children's first steps, then coming home one day with the first words greeting you being "Dar Dar took his first steps today!!"

Dar Dar is my son, and to this day it still hurts because I missed something special in his life because I was not there. The memory of his first steps is something I will never have now, and that's very painful.

That was also the day I literally said "F it, I'm tired of this". Excuse my terms of expression, but I decided THEN to do something about it, and I made up my mind that I was going to find a way to do both. I was determined to pay the bills and still be there for my children, and that was the exact attitude I took.

The problem is, well, I didn't have any support. None of my family members said "Maria, you can do it, go ahead and try". They said instead "Maria you have to take care of those children, how are you going to pay the bills?"

Yes they had a point, BUT why couldn't they have said "I'll support you in any way I can to help you get where you feel you need to be". Instead they showed me that IF I was going to get to where I wanted in life, then I was going to have to do it alone.

I quit the tobacco factory job (I was making $22 an hour at the time and they thought I was crazy) and found a job driving senior citizens and special children to school, centers, and social functions.

That job paid $150 a week, and was salary based, BUT I had a job where my boss was caring (thank you Linda), and the hours were such that I could spend most days doing my morning run (took about 1 to 2 hours) then doing my evening run. So it was more like a part time job for me.

Although the money wasn't the best, I now had more time with my children and also more time to focus on my career for a change. It was time for me to make myself money instead of helping make someone else rich.

But once more I struggled, because I didn't know which way to go. I didn't exactly know what I wanted to do, and I sure didn't know a single thing about anything online. But a computer was all I had to use to make a living from home because I sure couldn't afford start-up fees for all the other home based businesses I'd have liked to have tried (as I said I also had no support from family either...they thought I'd flipped my rocker).

So I spent many, many hours online, struggling to learn, and struggling to make ends meet, at least until the day that I got an email from some guy from some free report I had signed up for.

This guy was Allen (owner of Host4Profit), and his tone in his email was so friendly and encouraging that I purchased access to his site and the warrior forum.

That was the best move I have ever made in my life. I was thrown for a loop that still amazes me to this day.

I had loads of information to devour so my learning skyrocketed, and with the other warriors I had support like nothing I'd ever expected. I think of the warriors as an online family, that gave me the support and help I needed to keep me going.

When I fell, there was always someone there to say a kind word that gave me hope. When I needed help, there was always someone there to offer guidance.

I can honestly say that thanks to Allen and the warrior group, I am now working from home, raising my children, and finally at the point where I can go to law school. I have accomplished my main goal of staying at home with my children, and my next goal is in the works.

Now I know I probably could have accomplished my goals if I had never received that email from Allen, BUT I do know it would have been much harder, taken much longer, and honestly I don't know if I could have held on because it was a hard struggle to try and accomplish my goals without support.

But they did more than just help with my career, they helped with my heart as well. I won't go into all the details much, but I will say that they took a person (me) that had been raised with society calling her poor white trash, someone with no self confidence, and showed me how to be the best person I can be.

They had confidence in me, so I was able to have confidence in myself.

Humbly, I owe all my success to God, for helping to establish my thoughts, and to Allen and The Warrior Group just because they are terrific people.

Below are a few articles by me and 3 other Host4Profit customers, I asked these customers to send me something for this report that would express their true feelings, and here is what they have to say about Host4Profit.

This first article is my contribution about my Host4Profit experiences:

A Web Host That Helps
By Maria Vowell Copyright 2003
<http://www.17steps.com>

It just so happens that Host4Profit is the best web hosting company I have found to date. Believe me, I've dealt with MANY over the years when working on both my and my customers' sites.

Not only does Host4Profit go the extra mile (extra 10 miles in my personal opinion) but the service is fantastic, support is terrific, and uptime...well, let's just say I have not noticed my sites being down one bit and I've been with Host4Profit for years.

I first moved to Host4Profit when a previous host (who will remain nameless) tried to take one of my domain names. I was not very pleased about that because it is my favorite domain name.

This host also offered domain registration, and silly me didn't know any better than to let them handle the registration instead of me going through a registrar myself.

This company registered Lyciall.com in their name, and when I tried to switch hosting companies (because the service and support was terrible and I was ready to move) they basically told me fine, but I'd have to get a new domain name.

Needless to say it took A LOT of time calling the company THEY used to register my name, and faxing a lot of paper work to show that I was the one that had paid for the name, to finally get the mess fixed.

Back to Host4Profit, I found an old email from August 20, 2000 that I had written the owner Allen, and I'd like to share it in this report because it expressed my feelings about the service then. My feelings have not changed about Host4Profit one bit since.

Hi,

I hate to bother you, but I wanted to write and say THANK YOU!!! I have been playing around with my site all week trying to get my site up, and I would like to say that I have never had a hosting experience as good as I have in the past week!!!

Host4Profit is the fourth Hosting Provider I have tried, and so far it has run circles around the others. Even though I've run into a few problems trying to install a forum script, (which was due to my ignorance) I have never been able to install a script so fast....

Usually I have to call up my other host, leave a message, get them to call me back, wait for a call that never comes in, call again and after a week of finally getting someone, they usually give me the wrong information...so installing a script is nothing but a headache usually. But today I didn't even have to make one call...all the directory information I needed was already posted in the On-line manual...which was very thorough. That's a real pleasure.

Not to mention the ease you offer of password protecting certain areas!! I fought with my current provider (for my other domain) for 2 months trying to get a script I had paid over 200 dollars for to work. They said they had CGI access, but I could never get it to work right and neither could a programmer I hired.

It was their goof but I finally quit trying and never ventured further. You made it so easy, a few clicks of the mouse and it was done!! Not to mention server down time, I have caught my other domain server down over 3 hours throughout the past week, yet you've had my site going strong!!

And file transfer...I'm used to slow transfer speeds and my connection being reset with the other provider...yet with you my files transfer like a breeze!!! I feel like it's Christmas already!!

I don't mean to ramble but I just wanted to say thank you and that I am really pleased with the service so far. As soon as I get my e-mail straightened out for eBay, I have to notify all my bidders and such that my eMail may be down for a few days and give them an alternate email address until the switch is complete, then I will definitely be switching my main site over to Host4Profit also.

Keep up the good work and dude you must be a genius!! I think Host4Profit is going to end up being more popular than Yahoo!!

*Take Care
Maria*

Believe it or not, Allen also wrote back thanking me for my letter. That in itself was very surprising.

I had already been a member of The Warrior Group, the marketing group Allen put together some time before he launched Host4Profit. To me, an email from "The Marketing Master" was a total trip!!! The Warrior Group membership is one of the many things Host4Profit customers get with their hosting account.

I have told people time and time again, that I owe my online success to Allen and The Warrior group, and that's simply because I DO OWE every thing I know to them. What I didn't learn in the Warrior Member Area, I learned in the Warrior Forum.

You see, before I joined The Warrior group, I got burned out of $300 bucks (that I really couldn't afford to spend at the time) because I believed a "Hyped Up Ad" I read in my local newspaper.

To keep a long story short, I paid $300 bucks for a kit that consisted of JUNK, and I became very leery of any type of ad whether it was online or off.

That was until I signed up for The Free War report offered by Allen. I don't remember much about what the Report was about, BUT I do remember exactly how the report effected me.

It reached me in such a way that I felt as if Allen was more of a human being with feelings than a CEO out to make money. So I once more took a chance and plunged in, right into The Warrior Group.

Needless to say, that investment has been the BEST I've ever made to date.

NOT ONLY does The Warrior Group consist of some of the smartest and mentally acute online marketers around, it is also a group of some of the friendliest people I've ever had the pleasure of knowing in my life.

Ms. Robbin Tungett of AuctionRiches is a warrior. She's one of the kindest ladies I have met online. Her specialty is Online Auctions, and she has helped me in more ways than one by offering advice and help when I desperately needed help with Auctions (and many other topics).

Ms. Teresa King of TipsForTop, who has many specialties, but her best skill in my personal opinion is helping others. It doesn't matter if you're a newbie or an experienced pro, Ms. King has always had a kind word to share, patience to help heal open wounds, and offered sound business advice.

There's also Mr. Tom Hua eBookWholesaler who helped me at a terrible time in my life, that I'll never fully know how to repay him.

Mr. Wes Blalock of CGIToolbox who, when I was a customer, did some custom coding for me so the programs I purchased would do exactly as I needed. He later became a friend who spent many nights talking to me on ICQ when I had serious marital problems. He was a kind listening ear that really helped the tears.

Robert Puddy of EzineRocket, for helping boost my confidence.

Dave Espino of HomeBasedBusinessOwner, for helping me overcome my fear of writing.

John Colanzi TheSimpleSystem for just being himself and helping in any way he possibly can.

Willie Crawford of WillieCrawford.com who helped me realize that marketing can be more than making money. It can be FUN. Willie's wisdom made me finally try something fun instead of sticking with what I knew worked. I realized that FUN works too and it's just as profitable.

I can name many more names I'm sure, but then this report would become a book and I wouldn't want to bore you with all the details. There have been so many warriors that have helped me in some way in the past, that there's no way I can express thanks to all of them here.

I do have one more thing to say about the warrior group before I complete this article.

I have posted many, many times in the warrior forum, sometimes after which I'd think to myself "Maria you're so stupid, why did you write that, you sound like an idiot".

Not ONCE has another warrior been hateful, rude, snide, or self righteous towards me no matter what goofy thing I posted (right, try a paralyzing ring for starters, a hair brained idea that sounds SO STUPID now, but at the time I thought I had something going) and if at any time a warrior would have had a reason to mock or laugh, that certainly would have been the moment.

But not one of them did. Everyone that replied to my post was very kind, and explained to me in kind terms about how this idea just would not work, and over time I finally gave up on the idea because they were right.

See, with Host4Profit you get more than hosting. You get membership to a group of some of the best online friends you could ever wish for on the planet.

Yes, the Warrior group was around before Host4Profit, but Allen created both, and they are run with top notch expertise that rivals anything I have ever seen in the business world.

I owe my success fully to God, The Warriors, and Allen. I also owe my sites' success, uptime, and stability to Host4Profit.

It's a package deal and to me, there is no better package on the face of the planet.

Maria Vowell Owns and Operates 17Steps.com that offers "17 Steps To Success", an affordable, information packed guide that turns the intricate and often maddening process of web creation and development, into a step by step process almost anyone can understand.

Visit <http://www.17steps.com> to get started today!

What Makes One Hosting Company Better Than Another?

By Nava Bromberger Copyright 2003

<http://www.marketingtwist.com/>

These days you can find hosting very cheap. I've seen plans for less than $6.95/month that offer the world, promise 99% uptime, and a full-featured control panel. Sounds good doesn't it? But, believe it or not, this just isn't enough to take me away from my Host4Profit account.

Let me explain...

Choosing a good web hosting company is a very important decision and should be based on more than just who gives the most stuff. A truly good hosting company is one that supports your business and, better yet, specializes in your industry. Now, let's take Host4Profit and the internet marketing industry -- how do they really stand apart from the rest?

WARRIOR FORUM

They have the BEST forum on the internet geared 100% towards internet marketing. Imagine a forum where the top internet marketers hang out and get into real discussions about anything going on in the internet marketing world... a forum where you can ask any question and get at least one answer (if not several)... a forum where you can search on just about any topic and get back a ton of information. This isn't one of those touchy feely forums (though there is alot of support). No, people speak their mind and that is exactly what makes it so good. I know that I've learned more from this forum than from any ebook. One thread alone is sometimes an ebook in itself! Honestly, it's probably the most valuable part of my Host4Profit account.

4 PRODUCTS WITH RESELL RIGHTS

Getting started with an online business can be confusing at first especially if you don't have anything to sell. I'll be the first to admit it. But, Host4Profit makes it possible to start generating sales from day one because they give you 4 ebooks that you can sell and keep 100% of the money from every sale you make.

BASIC TOOLS TO CONDUCT BUSINESS

Conducting business online means being able to follow up with customers and prospects. It also means tracking advertising campaigns. A basic Host4Profit account comes with unlimited autoresponders and ad tracking. Normally, these are tools you would have to buy separately. Again, Host4Profit understands and supports the internet marketing industry by giving us everything we need to operate an online business.

CUSTOMER SUPPORT

Let me tell you a little story. Not too long ago, I was under a spam attack. Don't ask me how (because I don't know), but I started receiving thousands of the same message from the same person and it would not stop. The total number of messages finally topped off at somewhere over 15,000! It was horrible and the worst part was I couldn't get to my real email because these spam messages were in the way. What would most hosting companies do with a situation like this? I shudder to think. But, let me tell you what Host4Profit did. They manually removed the thousands of messages that were sitting there waiting to be downloaded and blocked that sender from the server side. Not only did it put an end to the nightmare I was having, but now that spammer can never get through to me again. Now that's what I call support!

PIECE OF MIND

Back when I had hosting with one of those $6.95/month companies, I remember that my site was once shut down because it was getting too much traffic. Can you imagine? And, of course it was the first day of a new campaign I was running. I was furious, how could they? So, ask yourself one simple question. Is your business worth $24.95 a month to have complete piece of mind? If my site goes down for any reason that's lost sales, traffic, and new subscribers. Plus, it just looks bad. Since moving my site to Host4Profit downtime has never been an issue. The server space and bandwidth they give us is so generous I'll probably never run out. To me, this is piece of mind because I don't want to worry about things like that, and the truth is, I shouldn't have to.

GENEROUS REFERRAL PROGRAM

I didn't come to Host4Profit because of the referral commissions I could make. It was recommended to me by someone I had a lot of respect for and because I knew that sub-par hosting just wasn't going to cut it if I was serious about having an online business. However, it's a huge bonus getting paid just for sending new clients their way. Host4Profit pays $10 per month and per person. Do the math, this is very generous and since it's residual income can become a very healthy income stream. Hosting isn't some program people join on an impulse then quit later. Most people stay with their hosting companies unless they're unhappy with the service. And, with the biggest group of happy customers I've ever seen, Host4Profit rarely loses clients which means that every single referral is an extra $10 a month. My personal goal is to eventually reach 1,000 referrals which will be an extra $10,000 a month.

So, back to the original question... What makes one hosting company better than another? I think it all comes down having a unique understanding of a particular industry and then over delivering for their specific needs. Host4Profit understands this basic concept and it's why I give them my full endorsement whenever someone asks me to recommend a hosting company.

Nava Bromberger publishes the Marketing Twist Ezine which discusses how to generate quality traffic to your site, build a responsive list, and rank high in search engines for targeted keywords. Subscribe by sending a blank email to publisher@marketingtwist.com?subject=TRAh4p or visiting: <http://www.marketingtwist.com/>

Host4Profit - Where Do I Begin
Copyright 2003, by Doug Philp
<http://www.opportunity4profit.com/>

I've been using Host4Profit now for a little over one year. Funny thing is I don't even look upon their service as being a hosting account. For me Host4Profit is really more like being part of a very special community. It's my home online. Well sort of - I'll be more descriptive.

Host4Profit is really just one part of a bigger online opportunity. And I don't use the word opportunity here to mean strictly $'s. I'll be honest, when I first setup a Host4Profit account my intent was to take advantage of the reseller program. $10 monthly per referral is not peanuts. I look at it this way:

3 referrals meant $30 Or covers my hosting cost.
10 referrals meant $100 Or pays the phone and electric bill.
20 referrals meant $200 Or covers monthly groceries for two.
30 referrals meant $300 Or making my car payment

You get the idea! The reseller program is probably why many people start hosting with Host4Profit. And I recommend taking a hard consideration yourself.

Interestingly, the owner of Host4Profit has set up his service to go well beyond hosting alone. And this is why I'm writing to you now, to make sure you understand the significant difference about buying a Host4Profit account.

Host4Profit points toward a community of people - people filled with desire, knowledge, success, failure, pain, joy, tears and laughter. A place designed to share, to encourage and to applaud. I know, I've been there and I experience it even to this day!

I'm talking about 'The Internet Marketing Warriors.' Maybe you've heard or read some details somewhere about the Warriors. As a Host4Profit client you are provided a lifetime subscription to WarriorPro!

Will a hosting account alone make you successful? Nope.

You need to interact with individuals actually building an online business. WarriorPro gives access to - 'The Warrior Forum' - maybe you've heard of this place too.

The Warrior Forum is the place where you will meet success in action. A community of people working hard to both:

- 1) Build their business and
 - Share much of what works!
 - Reveal what/who to stay away from while marketing.

- 2) Help one-another through
 - Encouragement
 - Offering product/service Special Deals
 - Joint Ventures
 - By openly discussing ideas about future products and services.

I can go on and on however, allow me to share something, I attribute all my online success to the relationships I've developed. I've come to understand, it's the human contact and interaction with people which fill the missing ingredients and help you to online success.

Any hosting account is about trading your hard earned dollars for server space. Sure we can argue all day long about the technical side of one hosting account vs. another. But why? Host4Profit is designed for success not just selling server space alone.

Plain and simple, be teachable and that success I write about will take you by the hand and lead you to reach your goals. I know. I see and experience it on an almost daily basis!

In other words, should you ever ask, Host4Profit comes Highly Recommended!

Copyright 2003 Doug Philp

Doug Philp researches affiliate and referral programs around the Internet. If you want information about the best visit:

<http://www.opportunity4profit.com>

The Best Things In Life Are With Host4Profit
By Manuel Viloría Copyright (c) 2003
Your Friendly E-Biz Coach
<http://www.viloria.com/>

Our family web site, Viloria.com, saw its fair share of web host providers since 1996. Each time we jumped from one provider to another, we had to go through hours if not days of tiring exasperation and boring file transfers.

We often wondered when this periodic exodus would end.

Fortunately, we found Host4Profit.

First of all, Host4Profit is not perfect. It's similar to other web host providers out there. There are times when your web site is not available, and there are moments when your email is delayed.

So why have we stayed with Host4Profit? Those unavoidable "moments" are kept short and, more importantly, the people in Host4Profit's Customer Service team respond quickly to our questions. They understand how stressful downtimes can be for web site administrators, and they naturally have a sense of urgency when communicating with their customers.

Thankfully, it's not just the wonderful Customer Service of Host4Profit that we're happy about. On the technical side, we've been able to install web scripts quickly. Sometimes even within 27 minutes!

Now my wife is happy, because she can easily update her weblog or online journal even if she doesn't know anything about HTML, thanks to an online journal or weblogging script you can install in your Host4Profit-hosted web site.

(By the way, if ever you host your web site at Host4Profit, let us know and we'll gladly help you install the web scripts you need. If the task is pretty straightforward, we'll even do it for you gratis!)

The other scripts we've installed that can work beautifully in your Host4Profit-hosted web site are: a randomly displayed photo script, local time script, and even a local weather conditions script. Who says web hosting isn't fun?

Another thing we like about Host4Profit are the web statistics. You can easily see which pages are popular, or which get visited the most, or even what people typed in search engines before they landed in your web site. It feels great to know you're not just publishing online for yourself but for a growing reading public.

(As a quick but grateful aside, we wish to thank our web site readers who've helped the site pay for itself.)

I recommended Host4Profit to a friend of mine, and she set-up <http://www.dinsworld.com>, a beautiful site filled with photos and stories about family. With Host4Profit's generous monthly traffic allowance, Dinsworld.com with all its graphics and numerous visitors is comfortably transferring one-fifth of the monthly 10 Gb allowance. Yes, there's more room for web sites to grow.

I used to be afraid of putting up photos because I was worried my site would get too popular and end up spending on bandwidth costs (grin), but with Host4Profit and the experience of Dinsworld, I plan to add more photographs to our site soon.

So that's why we like Host4Profit: Customer Service is friendly and responsive, web hosting is reliable and efficient, and the generous monthly transfer allowance means you can share more of your creativity with even more people worldwide.

After almost 8 years online, I can now say that yes, the best things in life are with Host4Profit.

By Manuel Viloría Your Friendly E-Biz Coach
<http://www.viloria.com/>

If you'd like a brandable version of this report with your own Host4Profit resellers ID in it, then Please Click Here To Sign Up For Host4Profit.

When you get your welcome email from Host4profit, sign up for the resellers program to get your reseller ID, then send a blank email to h4preport@listwarrior.com to have your download link for your brandable version sent to you immediately.

Follow the branding instructions when you receive your reply email with the download link, so that you will then have your resellers ID in every Host4Profit link in this free report. Then you can pass this report on freely to help you gain your own Host4Profit signups.